Canadian AutoSlalom Champions

1972- present

The ASN Canada FIA Canadian AutoSlalom Championship started in 2004 with the first national championship event, under ASN Canada FIA's National SoloSport Committee, at Sanair Racetrack in Saint Pie, QC hosted by CADL. (The event is often referred to as the CAC -Canadian AutoSlalom Championship.)

The Canadian AutoSlalom Championship started in 1972 under the Canadian Automobile Sport Clubs (CASC) sanctioning body and involved a championship event with a detailed course design and uniform vehicle classes that took place on a specific day on venues across the country which were put on by member clubs. The times were tabulated and national class winners were determined in the days that followed the CAC. After the demise of CASC in 1998, the Canadian National Autoslalom Championship was created by a group of individuals and their first single-site national championship event in 2000 and, in 2002, they added separate Eastern and Western championship events to help encourage the CNAC concept.

Below are details on the National Championship Events and the National Champions, both overall and by class.
